Who We Are

Aviva Energy is a California-based energy consultant firm serving the needs of commercial and industrial end-users of natural gas and electricity across the country.

Our customers appreciate the powerful advantage of our unbiased advice and matching of their needs with the right suppliers. We have years of experience in the energy industry.

We Know Our Clients

As your energy consultant, Aviva Energy negotiates on your behalf with suppliers and utilities to assure the best strategy for your energy needs.

We constantly work on your behalf, studying the marketplace for the most competitive energy suppliers, prices and opportunities. Aviva Energy provides you with real-time market pricing and specific energy intelligence.

When you let Aviva Energy work for you, you receive unbiased market and regulatory information for gas, power or fuels so that you can make an informed, efficient decision. We are on your side.

We Know Your Objectives

Aviva Energy determines your financial goals, risk profile and energy priorities. Our professionals are experienced in all aspects of the energy industry from production to transportation to retail - all the way to your facilities. We are uniquely qualified to provide a solution to meet your objectives.

Take Advantage of Our Service

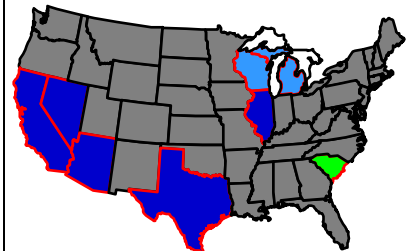

Aviva Energy is ready to put the full resources of our experience as well as our network of industry relationships to work for your company.

Aviva Energy will act as your professional energy department. We are on your side, working on a retainer basis.
